We invite everyone to the ECE Senior Design Presentations the Friday of Dead Week. Laboratory tours will begin at 10:00am followed by a luncheon. Students will present and demonstrate their projects throughout the afternoon. Many different projects will be presented which vary from wireless networks to autonomous robotics. So come on down, enjoy the presentations and show your support for our student effort.

Friday's presentation is not just limited to senior design. We also invite all undergraduate and graduate students to bring their own projects or poster boards for presentation. We have plenty of tables and it would be an excellent opportunity to show off independent studies and thesis research to your fellow students and faculty. The format is open and informal and may include poster boards or actual gadgets. Exhibitors are welcome to present anywhere in the timeframe of 1:00pm to 4:00pm. If you wish your project to be included in the general contest, please notify us ASAP with the title and brief description.
