The Pathway of Innovation is sponsored by the University of Kentucky College of Engineering Alumni Association. Funds generated by the campaign are used to support student programs and activities in the College of Engineering, such as social and pre-professional opportunities for current students at on-campus engineering events, as well as initiatives like the Engineering Alumni Association Leadership Scholarship. Because such programs enhance students’ University of Kentucky experience, the Pathway of Innovation is a key component of the COEAA’s efforts to attract and retain high-caliber students with demonstrated leadership potential.

We invite you to become part of history by purchasing your own personalized, engraved brick on the Pathway of Innovation.

The bricks will be laid in the Joseph G. and Suzanne W. Teague Courtyard by decade, memorial or by honoree status, forever imprinting your connection to the University of Kentucky College of Engineering in a special way. You may imprint your brick with your name and class year, a special group you were a part of, a dedication to someone special or a message stating your affiliation with the College of Engineering. The options are endless! All contributions are tax deductible.
